A Living Memorial

RHEIMS CATHEDRAL, in the fifteenth century and again during the World War, was partially destroyed by fire and shell, but each time restored. Its towers rise to a height of 267 feet. The exquisitely carved statues which embellish the exterior walls and the world-famous paintings which adorn the interior make this one of the best known memorials.

COPYRIGHT 1935, EDGAR ROTHROCK

IN MY FATHER'S HOUSE

*No, not cold beneath the grasses,
Not close-walled within the tomb;
Rather, in my Father's mansion,
Living in another room.*

*Living, like the one who loves me,
Like my child with cheeks abloom,
Out of sight, at desk or school-book,
Busy in another room.*

*Nearer than my son whom fortune
Beckons where the strange lands loom;*

*Just behind the hanging curtain,
Serving in another room.*

*Shall I doubt my Father's mercy?
Shall I think of death as doom,
Or the stepping o'er the threshold
To a bigger, brighter room?*

*Shall I blame my Father's wisdom?
Shall I sit enswathed in gloom,
When I know my loves are happy,
Waiting in the other room?*
